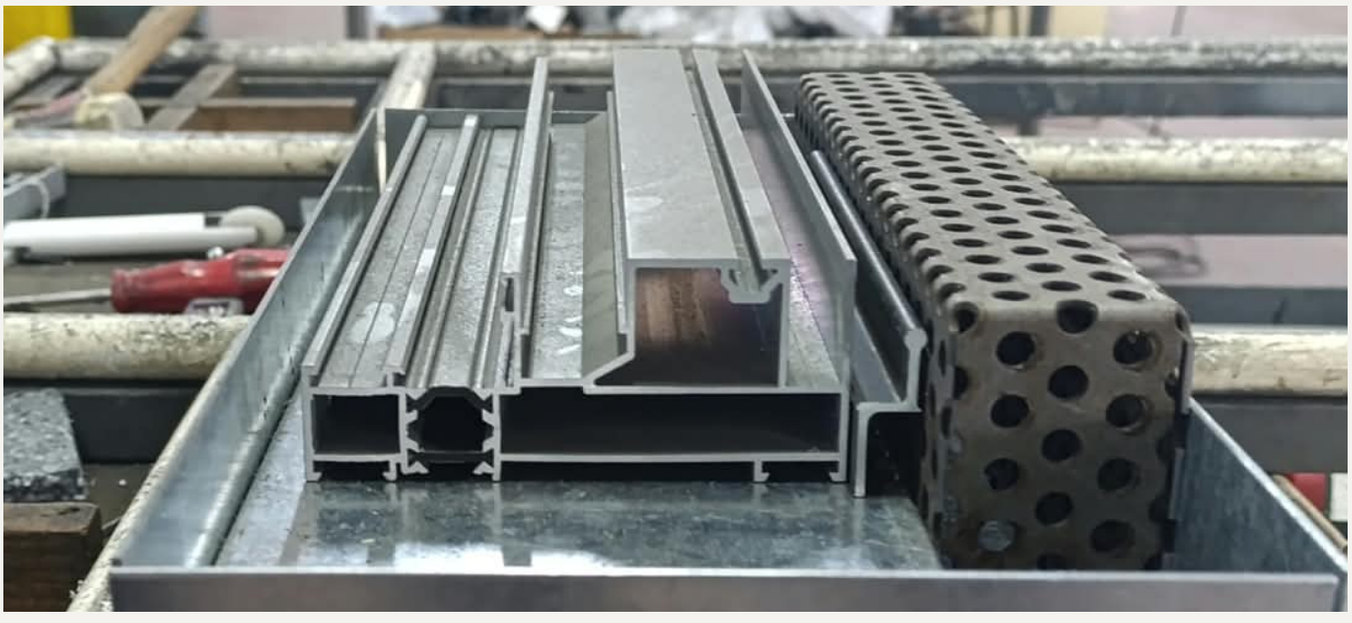
Experience shows in the details.

Founded by Süha Güvenç in 1986, Astor Yapı turns its aluminium manufacturing and installation experience in Istanbul into project-specific solutions.



Aluminium profile detail in the Astor Yapı workshop.

We consider measurements, drawings, production and installation together. Every project is assessed through its intended use, architectural details and site conditions.

Openings designed around daily use.

For doors, windows and sliding systems, we consider everyday use, access requirements and architectural consistency together.

Glazed aluminium partition and door application.

Start with the right questions: what are the opening dimensions and direction? How frequently will it be used? What access, glazing, hardware and finish are required? These details frame the project before a system is selected.

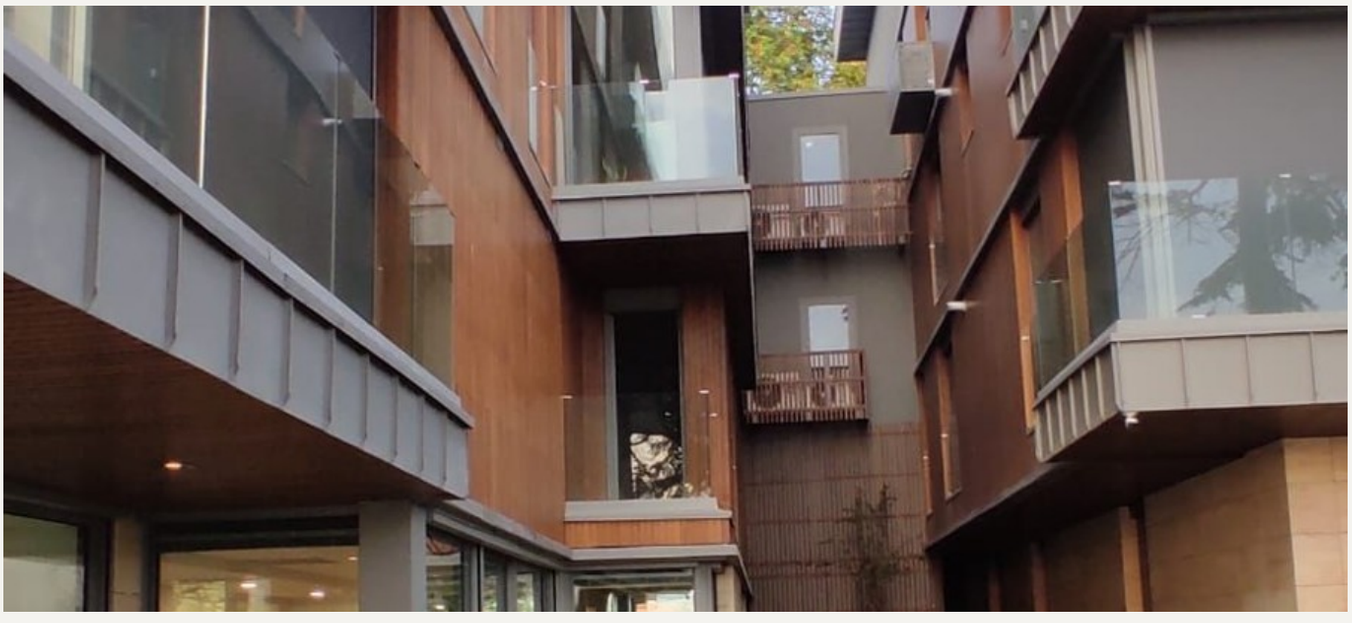
The whole depends on the connections.

Let’s review your project for façade-integrated joinery, profile connections and bespoke architectural requirements.



Salacak Konakları. The photograph shows the project context.

The façade type, structural connections, glazing configuration and installation boundaries are established from project drawings. Technical review and a written quotation define the suitable system and Astor Yapı’s precise scope.

Turning your ideas into aluminium.

Developing solutions together for non-standard dimensions, special connections and architectural design requirements.

Manufacturing at the Astor Yapı workshop.

Define the need: share drawings, dimensions and intended use.

Resolve the details: agree on materials, connections and the installation scope.

Plan production: proceed from approved drawings and the agreed schedule.

Materials in harmony with the project.

We consider visual and functional expectations alongside the technical requirements of the selected system.

Aluminium profile connection sample.

Colour reference: share a preferred colour code or physical sample.

Finish: suitable options depend on the profile and intended use.

Glazing and hardware: specified through drawings and the written quotation.

Screen and print colours do not replace physical samples. Colour and finish are confirmed before production.

A planned path from measurement to handover.

At every stage, the aim is to turn project details into a clear manufacturing and installation scope.
